

WINTER IS COMING. YOUR WINDOWS AREN'T READY.

Soon, the leaves will change, the air will get crisp, and you'll start to think about winter. You'll check the furnace, maybe pull out a warmer jacket, but there's one thing you're probably forgetting: your windows.

Last year's cold drafts, condensation, and sky-high heating bills weren't a fluke.

They were a warning. This is your sign that it's time to finally replace those old, inefficient windows before winter truly arrives.

Your windows are the first line of defense against the brutal winter weather. But if they're old, single-pane, or just poorly installed, they're letting all of your expensive heat escape and letting the freezing cold air seep in.

FOUR REASONS WHY YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO IGNORE YOUR WINDOWS ANY LONGER

- 1) The Drafts Didn't Go Away: Remember that chilly breeze coming from the corner of your office or the classroom? That wasn't your imagination. It was a sign of a failing seal or an improperly fitted frame. That draft will be back, and it's a direct ticket for your heating dollars to fly right out the window.
- 2) Condensation Is a Major Red Flag: If you're constantly wiping down condensation from the inside of your windows, it could be a sign they are not properly insulated. This isn't just annoying; it's a precursor to mold growth and can cause significant damage to your window sills and frames.
- 3) The Outdated Windows You Didn't Fix Last Year Still Need Fixed: You might have made it through last winter by cranking up the heat and wearing an extra sweater, but that doesn't make your windows magically better. In fact, another winter of thermal stress will only make their problems worse.
- 4) Stop Overpaying to Heat the Outdoors: Old windows are a thermal leak. They are one of the biggest culprits behind high energy bills. By replacing them with modern, energy-efficient windows from Capitol Aluminum & Glass, you're not just making your building more comfortable; you're making a smart financial decision that will save you money for years to come.

DON'T GET CAUGHT UNPREPARED THIS WINTER. ACT NOW!

Capitol Aluminum & Glass offers a range of high-performance windows designed to keep the heat in and the cold out. Our expert team can help you identify the right solution for your building, ensuring you have a warm, comfortable, and energy-efficient winter.

Contact us today to get a quote and finally replace those outdated windows for good.

Call: (419) 483-7050

Email: sales@capitol-windows.com

One-Stop Solution: Manufacturer & Installer

We specialize in designing, building, and installing premium-grade architectural aluminum window and entrance systems. This means seamless project management from start to finish.

Explore our full range of commercial aluminum products at:

www.capitol-windows.com

- Wide Stile Traditional Doors
- Flush & FRP Specialty Doors
- Storefront & Curtain Wall
- Window Systems & Available Accessories